

U.S. Agricultural Trade

Exports expected to rise $5.3 billion in 2004 due to higher volumes/prices for feed grains, cotton & horticultural prods; despite lower soybean & beef shipments. Larger gain for imports drives trade surplus slightly lower.

